

Swiss Re Corporate Solutions and TCS conquered the CNseg's Insurance Innovation Award

The winning project is an application for underwriting risk that brings agility to the field inspections and accuracy to the information exchanged among the experts and the insurance company

Swiss Re Corporate Solutions and TCS (Tata Consultancy Services) conquered the second position in the CNseg's 2016 Insurance Innovation Award. The ceremony held in São Paulo last December recognized the 'Agro Field Inspection App' project among the five finalists in the Processes category. The Agro Inspeções application was developed to support the field inspections by eliminating the use of paper, standardizing the image transmission and using satellite to define of the insured area. It is expected that the technology will help to reduce the time to sign the insurance contract and bring more precision to the information verified on-site.

"We are very satisfied with this market recognition of an initiative so important for the agricultural insurance. We believe that this is the first step among new possibilities that this type of technology will bring to this industry," said Joseph Cullen, Director of Rural Insurance at Swiss Re Corporate Solutions.

With the application, the data collected on-site is forwarded to the insurance's background service in a more structured way and in accordance with a digital form template specific to each agricultural crop. The system can eliminate duplicate and incorrect data during the form filling in the field. The computerization benefits include high data quality, security, consistency, standardization and speed.

"For us, having been chosen as a Swiss Re Corporate Solutions partner in the development of this new technology is a matter of great pride. This award is a very important recognition to the work we have done together with our customers and partners, creating innovative digital solutions and services that positively impact the market," celebrated Tushar Parikh, Country Head at TCS Brazil.

The application runs on-line or off-line, and form filling, photos and satellite images are taken directly on the device and may be forwarded through a Wi-Fi or smartphone connection. Swiss Re Corporate Solutions expects that 95% of inspections will be carried out using the application by the end of Q1 2017.
